

Editorial

Dear Authors, Academics, and Researchers,

It is my pleasure to present the 7th issue of JGSS. In August, 20 years of war ended.

It is the longest war of the USA in which the American troops left Afghanistan behind thousand of deaths. The USA occupied Afghanistan to sweep away the Taliban. After 20 years of chaos, the mission is in(completed), and the result is: Taliban is back! What is worse that; America gave rein millions of dollars arms, weapons of war, planes, guns, night-vision goggles to the Taliban (un)intentionally.

Thanks to the distinguished authors, this issue contains very critical articles. The main topics of this issue are; Government Funding, SOCIAL Cleavages and Women, Analysis in Accounting Research, Electoral Fraud, Blended Learning, and Students Performance in Final Examinations, and Russian Language and Turkish People.

Hope to see you in the next issue.
